Contract Terms:

This contract is between Nicholas Standing and Client. Nicholas Standing agrees to carry out the task as detailed on the above invoice and Client agrees to pay the invoice in full once satisfied with the task's completion. A minimum of 50% of the invoice costs will be paid upfront before delivery of the task.

Client remains the owner of the intellectual property rights for the music supplied, as well as the recordings supplied for the task. Nicholas Standing remains owner of the completed recordings until the invoice is paid in full, after which the ownership will switch to Client. The party with ownership of the recordings AND intellectual property rights reserves the right to do whatever they wish with the recordings. Parties without ownership may not sell or distribute the recordings without written consent from the owner.

Client will ensure Nicholas Standing is given credits wherever the music is sold/streamed as well as in the printed album credits if a physical release. Credits will be given as follows:

"Mastered by Nick Standing at JabunAudio jabunaudio.com"

Client grants Nicholas Standing permission to re-stream the finished works in his profession portfolio, as well use the supplied audio and finished works to demonstrate his services to future clients, including in parts only for free publicly downloadable demo reels.

Nicholas Standing is not responsible for any direct or indirect consequential loss arising from the use of the finished product in whatever form. Refunds will not be given on payments made.

Full or partial payment of this invoice constitutes both parties' acceptance of these contract terms.
